

All transactions were fully disclosed, says Sinha on Paradise Papers

New Delhi, Union Minister Jayant Sinha on Monday defended himself through a series of tweets after his name appeared in the "Paradise Papers" leak.

Sinha said all transactions related to him which have been mentioned in the Indian Express investigation were "fully disclosed" to relevant authorities and were done in his "official capacity, not personal".

The "Paradise Papers" are a set of 13.4 million leaked financial documents from law firm -- Appleby -- on investments of major multi-national corporations (MNCs) and that of well known individuals in India and abroad in tax havens.

The German newspaper -- Süddeutsche Zeitung -- obtained the documents and subsequently shared them with the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists (ICIJ).

The Express carried out the investigation in the case of 714 Indian links.

Express reported that law firm Appleby records showed that Sinha did not disclose his relationship with Omidyar Network and D. Light Design's board to the Election Commission.

"Full details have been provided to Indian Express. These were bonafide and legal transactions undertaken on behalf of highly reputed world-leading organisations in my fiduciary role as Partner at Omidyar Network and its designated representative on the D.Light Board," Sinha tweeted.

He also said: "All these transactions have been fully disclosed to relevant authorities through all necessary filings as required. After leaving Omidyar Network, I was asked to continue on the D.Light Board as an Independent Director. On joining the Union Council of Ministers, I immediately resigned from the D.Light Board and severed my involvement with the company."

"It is crucial to note that these transactions were done for D.Light as an Omidyar representative, and not for any personal purpose," Sinha added.

According to the Express report, Sinha worked with Omidyar Network as its Managing Director in India. Omidyar Network invested in a US company D.Light Design which has a subsidiary in Cayman Islands in the Caribbean Sea.

GST Network's new facility for exporters to claim refunds

New Delhi,

The Goods and Services Tax Network (GSTN) said on Sunday that it has introduced a utility Table 6A in the Form GSTR-1 used by exporters to claim refunds.

"Table 6A of Form GSTR1 has been introduced on the GST portal," GSTN said in a statement.

Table 6A of Form GSTR1 allows taxpayers to file export related data for the period concerned that permits processing of the tax refund on the basis of declaration made under Form GSTR 3B and Table 6A of GSTR-1.

An exporter can claim refund of Integrated GST (IGST) paid at the time of export by filling the details of the shipping bill and tax paid GST invoice in his Form GSTR1 in the relevant month. The shipping bill filed by an exporter with customs authorities is considered to be an application for refund of the integrated tax paid on the goods exported out of India.

The GSTN said that this functionality has been made available to enable exporters to file for refund as the dates for filing of GSTR-1 for August onwards have not yet been notified and the form has not been filed.

"Every registered taxable person who has made exports on payment of IGST, other than an input service distributor or compounding taxpayer or TDS deductor or TCS collector can file Table 6A of Form GSTR-1 electronically on the GST Portal" GSTN Chief Executive Prakash Kumar said.

The table can be filed from the returns section of the GST Portal.

The refund amount would be paid either through a credit to the exporter's bank via ECS or by cheque.

In a relief to exporters, the government last month had announced that it would immediately refund exporters for the month of July and August through cheques from October 10 and October 18, respectively.

Following a meeting, the GST Council decided that this would be an interim relief, and as a long term measure e-wallets will be created for all exporters by April 1, 2018, to carry forward the refund process.

Under heavy security, TCS-sponsored NYC Marathon starts with 51,000 runners

New York,

Unfazed by the terror strike in the metropolis earlier this week, the Tata Consultancy Services (TCS)-sponsored New York City Marathon got underway on Sunday under heavy security.

More than 51,000 runners from about 125 countries are participating in the race officially known as the TCS-New York City Marathon, an important promotional event for the Indian tech giant.

About 2.5 million spectators were expected to line the 26.2-mile (42-kilometre) route snaking across all the five city districts. Heavily armed police and National Guard troops guarded several locations. Garbage trucks and lorries loaded with sand blocked off many intersections to prevent terrorist attacks using vehicles.

Counter-terrorism commandos stood-by, snipers took positions on buildings, and bomb-sniffing dogs worked their way through some spots.

New York City police chief Carlos Gomez said the number of security personnel "will be the most deployed at this event".

New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio assured the city that the event of global importance in marathons will "be well protected".

The marathon was flagged off Sunday morning on Staten Island and is to finish at the Central Park in Manhattan.

A terrorist attack by an Islamic State (IS) sympathiser using a truck as a weapon killed eight people in Manhattan earlier this week.

The attack allegedly by an Uzbek immigrant, Sayfullo Habibullaevic Saipov, near the site of the 9/11 terrorist strike in 2001 put the city on edge, especially because of an attack on the Boston Marathon.

In 2013, two brothers from another former Soviet republic, Kyrgyzstan, had set off bombs made with pressure cookers at the Boston Marathon killing three people and injuring about 500.

Tata Sons Chairman Natarajan Chandrasekaran, an avid marathoner himself, was instrumental in getting TCS to sponsor the high-profile event when he was the CEO of TCS.

Along the route, TCS logos and signs were on display raising the visibility of the tech company in the city as well as reminding the city of community involvement by Indian companies operating in the United States.

Sharp decline, quick recovery defined Indian smartphone market

New Delhi,

The first three quarters of 2016 were going just great and smartphone players had raked in super profits right up to Diwali -- then demonetisation caught them by surprise, as it did others.

The note ban hit manufacturers across the spectrum -- especially domestic handset makers who primarily rely on cash sales in smaller cities and towns.

The subsequent cash crunch resulted in smartphone sales falling by 30.5 per cent (month-on-month) in November over the October festive season. According to global market research firm International Data Corporation (IDC), Indian vendors were affected the most -- with a drop of 37.2 per cent in November -- as compared to Chinese players with a 26.5 per cent drop and global vendors with 30.5 per cent drop over the previous month. When contacted by IANS, Indian vendors Micromax and Intex declined to comment.

"Demonetisation impacted the smartphone market at almost all levels, including the customer demand and stock movement in the distribution channels," said Upasana Joshi, Senior Market Analyst, IDC India.

In the fourth quarter (Q4) of 2016, smartphone shipments clocked 25.8 million units -- registering similar volume as that of 2015 but declining sharply by 20.3 per cent over the previous quarter owing to demonetisation, which led to relatively lower consumer sales in November and December.

According to the data provided by CyberMedia Research (CMR) to IANS, the smartphone shipment to India was 10 million units in October last year which shrank to 9.2 million units in November and then, slightly improved to 9.6 million units in December.

The slowdown was seen across all cities. There was a huge drop in inquiries and significantly reduced footfall at retail shops. To counter this, handset retailers started offering zero down payment options to improve sales.

To overcome the impact, smartphone players with huge online presence started offering EMI and easy payment options to keep the sales going.

Amid all this, China-based vendors' market share improved sequentially owing to their high decibel marketing, increased credit line to distributors and efficient channel management.

The sales, however, picked up in 2017 and smartphone players heaved a sign of relief as the cash flow got better.

"In the first quarter of this year, the smartphone shipment was 26.5 million units while in the second quarter, it was 28.4 million units," Prabhu Ram, General Manager, Industry Intelligence Group (IIG) at CMR, told IANS.
